

LEATHER INFORMATION

ANILINA

FULL GRAIN SEMI ANILINE
(12 Colours)

SUPER SOFT ANILINE LEATHER

Anilina is full grain semi-aniline leather. This is the preferred choice for customers who want their upholstery to be tough wearing, easy to clean, and still offer a luxurious soft touch. This leather has been chosen from a selection of high quality European hides. The surface offers the best characteristics for cleaning stains and spills. The leather has been aniline dyed, then slightly pigmented. This process adds protection and evens out the colour. Hand feel is very good. One of the most popular leathers for family use!

RUSTIC

TOP GRAIN "PULL UP" LEATHER
(Available in Dark Brown Only)

Rustic is a top grain pull up leather. Oil has been forced into the hide. Whenever the leather is stretched or pulled, the colour of the stressed area will lighten. In an oil pull up leather, the colour shifts are subtle and graded. The hide, after a short time, takes on an aged look with an exceptional patina. This is pull up leather at it's exquisite best.

CELTIC

HEAVY 1.3 – 1.5mm FULL GRAIN ANILINE DYED LEATHER
(Black, Coffee & Tan)

Celtic leather is a full grain, aniline leather. This leather has not been corrected, milled, or tumbled. The natural grain and beauty of each individual hide is exposed in all it's luxury of grain and butter soft feel. The gauge of thickness varies from 1.3 – 1.5mm. This is an exceptional bold thickness, which identifies it as the ultimate in quality. Only the very best select hides are offered in this category. Over time the leather will age with a beautiful patina. It has some water and stain resistance, but offers exceptional hand feel. This is the choice for the leather connoisseur.

NATURA

FULL GRAIN SEMI ANILINE WITH ADDED PROTECTION
(7 Colours)

Natura is a full grain semi Aniline leather dyed through with Aniline dyes. To cover and reduce surface defects, the hides are processed by adding a light colour pigment together with acrylic and urethane resins.

A combination of chemical materials is added to make the hide resistant against stains, dry and wet rubbing and to create a soft touch effect.

The quality and structure of these hides is the same as Aniline leather. However, the process mentioned not only reduces the hide's natural flaws, but also improves the hide's resistance during extended use (rubbing, stains, spills), quaranteeing years of enjoyment.
